KNAPP 1940049

The name of Knapp is of Saxon origin and is derived from the word "Cnoep" meaning top, or from "Canapa" meaning a boy or son , probably the former.It is found in ancient English and early American records in various forms of spelling: Canepp, Cnappe, Cnop, Cnape, Knop, Napp, Knape, Knappe, Knop, Kn opi, Knoppe, Kn opp, Knop, Knepp, Knoip, Kneupp, Knoop, Knoppe, Knapp. The last spellin g is most used in America today.

Those families are said to have been residents of England before the time of William, the Conqueror. The earliest definite record of this name, however, is that of one Petrus or Peter, of County Norfolk, in the year 1198. From him and his immediate family, most of the families of the name are believed to have descended.

There were Knapps in the Counties of Berks, Oxford, Dorset, Wilts, Lincoln, Norfolk, Cambridge, Buckingham, York, Devon, Cornwall, Gloucester, Hereford, Suffolk, Essex, Somerset, Sussex,and Surrey. Also in the city and vicinity of London at an early date. The name was also found in Wales and in Ireland at a later date.

These families were, for the most part of the landed gentry and yeomanry of the British Isles. Among the earliest definite records of the name in England are those of John Cnope, of County Cambridge in 1273. Those of John Knapp, of Buckinghamshire in 1273. Those of Capella de la Cnoppe who was living at about the same time. Those of Adam Knap of the same period. Those of William Knop, of Sussex in 1279. Edith Knoppe, of County Somerset in 1290. Stephen de la Cnoppe of Devonshire in 1302. obert Knapp of Somerset in 1306. John de Cnoppe, of Somerset, 1316. Margaret atte Cnoppe of Somerset in 1327. John, son of Adam Knop or Cnop, of Wiltshire, about the same time. William Knappe , of County Cornwall in 1385. Johanne(John) Knape or Knappe, of Yorkshire in 1379. Thomas Knoppe, of Gloucestershire, who was Mayor of Bristol, and the father by his wife, Alyce, of among other children Margery. William Knoppe, brother of Thomas, who died about 1[illegible]. These are however fragmentary.

Of the County Norfolk branch of the family, John Knoppe or Knapp was living at Norwich about 1439 and was probably the father of that John whose will was proved in 1461. The second John had issue by his wife Catherine, of William, Alice and Ellen. One Knapp of this line was the f[illegible] of in the early 15th century of Robert and Richard, of whom the former died about 1484, leaving at least one son named John who was the father by his wife Catherine, of John, Thomas, Richard and Margaret. John Knapp who may have been a brother ~~of the~~ of the before mentioned Robert, died in County Norfolk about 1488, leaving issue by his wife Julian, of John, Hugh and / Thomas. Of these John was the father of Richard, John, Elizabeth and Alice, of whom the first had, among others, Francis, John, Henry, Jane, Cicely and Elizabeth. While Henry left issue by his wife, Jane, of Robert, Matthew and Andrew.

In the later 15th century, Robert Knappe or Knapp, resided in County Suffolk. He married Margaret, daughter of Edmund Foley. Their children were Edmund, John, Robert, Thomas and Mildale. Of these Edmund was first married to Bridget Forgns by whom he had two sons, Edmund and Robert, neither of whom had children. By his second wife, Elizabeth Woodcock, whom he married in 1566, he had John, Edmund and six daughters. Of these, John married Beatrix, daughter of Henry Darley and had Edmund, Henry, Edward, John, George, Charles, Mary, Elizabeth and Beatrice.

John Knapp, second son of the first Robert, of Suffolk, had children by his wife Martha Bloys, at Ipswich, named John, Leonard, Thomas and several daughters. Of the sons, John married Elizabeth and had James, William, John, Edmund, Elizabeth, Margaret and Martha. Thomas married Katherine Barker and had Thomas, John, Martha and Katherine.

Robert Knapp, third son of the first Robert, of Suffolk,married Christiana Brown and had John who died young, the Reverend Samuel, John, George, Elizabeth and Martha. Of these Samuel married Susanna Cooke or Cookes and had Robert, Samuel, John and five daughters.

Recd. apr. 14-1917

Thomas Knapp, fourth son of the first Robert, of ~~Ipswich~~ Suffolk, was the father of Thomas, Robert and William, of whom the first died without issue. Robert, the second son of Thomas, married Ann Barker and had Samuel, Thomas, Daniel, John, Robert and several daughters.

About the beginning of the 16th century, one Thomas Knapp, of Berkshire, had Nicholas and John, of whom Nicholas died about 1565 leaving four children: John, Thomas, Elizabeth and Margaret. Of these, Thomas married Ann and had Thomas, William, John, Agnes, Nicholas, Walter, Alice, Henry and Richard, of whom Thomas had a son Thomas.

The descendants of all these lines are not certain, but Henry married 1st, Ann Toder and had Mary, Agnes and Henry. He married 2nd Agnes Smalelone in 1606 and had Joan, Francis, John, Annoy, Ann, Thomas, Elizabeth and George. Of these sons of Henry and Agnes, John was the father of Francis, John and George, while George was the father of Richard, John, Francis, Thomas and Nicholas.

Nicholas Knapp, son of the 2nd Thomas, of Berkshire, had two sons, Thomas and Nicholas, each of whom had a son named Nicholas, and Richard, son of the 2nd Thomas, of Birkshire, was the father of Richard, William, Thomas and George. Of the last mentioned brothers, William had a son named George: Richard had a son named Richard: Thomas had among others, a son named August? And George had at least two children, Richard and John.

The first immigrants by the name of Knapp to come to America are believed to have been from County Suffolk, England. William and Nicholas were first recorded at Watertown, Mass., about 1630. They are believed to have been brothers, but there is no proof of this relationship. They were followed by Aaron Knapp, of Taunton, Mass. about 1638 and Roger Knapp, of New Haven, Conn. about 1645. Job Knapp came later to Sutton or Salem, Mass. The relationship of these early immigrants is unknown, despite many statements to the contrary.

(The above statement is from a cousin of Mr. and Mrs. Justin W. Knapp, Idaho Falls, Idaho. They do not know the source of this information.)

In 1939, Oswald Greenwaye Knapp, of England, author of "A History of the Chief English Families Bearing the Name of Knapp" was asked to give us his latest conclusions concerning the English origin of our New England ancestors. He had this to say concerning William, of Watertown:

"There is a very strong probability that William Knapp, of Watertown, belonged to a Yeoman family, usually spelt Knopp, who lived at Newton and Cornard Parva, County Suffolk, and Middletown, County Essex, from 1524 to 1660. The fact that his daughter married John Buttery, of Bury, St.Edmunds, suggests that he had some connections with East Suffolk, in which those places are situated. George Knapp, of Newton, Yeoman, whose will was proved in 1612 in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, mentions among his children, William, apparently his 2nd son, whose date would correspond with William of Watertown. Moreover, his sister Anne married John Kingsbury, and two persons of the same, Thomas and Henry, were among the settlers of Groton in 1630, and most of those who sailed with Winthrop and Saltonstall seem to have come from this district.

I am aware that Mr.Banks, in his account of the Winthrop fleet, says that both William and Nicholas probably came from Bures St.Mary, Co. Suffolk but I have been unable to learn on what grounds he bases his conjecture, nor have I found anything to indicate that any family of our name was connected with the place.

The spelling, Knopp, which is characteristic of this family and which I believe is found in some of the early New England records, is almost confined to Essex and Suffolk, where it first appears in 1270, and may have originated in the Low Countries.

There is no evidence to support the tradition that William and Nicholas were brothers, though it is very probable that they were kinsmen. The fact that they bore the same name and came in the same fleet would account for such a conjecture, and the conjecture, after having been repeated a few times, would come to be accepted as a fact. Roger certainly belonged to quite a different stock, being no doubt sprung from that in which the surname first became hereditary in the first half of the thirteenth century. Its earliest recorded member, Hugh de Chappe, of Knappe, or la Knappe, (now Knapp), in North Curry, was dead in 1284, when his son Thomas Knappe, or la Knappe, claimed to be the heir. I suspect that this was the source from which sprung the Knapps found in the sixteenth century in Bucks, Oxon and Wilts. Aaron, again, belongs to a family which has no proved connection with any of the others, but it may very well be sprung, as I have suggested, from the same Somersetshire Stock.

This is the state of the problem today. I make no claim to finality or certainty for my conclusions, but a life-long experience in such investigations does tend to give one a certain flare for the lines along which a solution is most likely to be reached, even though it may be impossible to say with assurance what that solution may turn out to be."

The original Power of Attorney is on file at the Probate Office in East Cambridge, Mass. Her share was sold to Nathaniel Coolidge for twelve pounds.

A-1. William Knapp was a carpenter, sexton, pound keeper and farmer. He owned land in 1636/37. He received seven lots and purchased one lot, about 170 acres. He is referred to in Charles E.Banks' book:"The Winthrop Fleet of 1630". He refers to William and Nicholas Knapp as brothers but in a personal letter, admitted that there is no proof of this relationship - it was assumed that they were brothers because they came about the same time and bore the same name. There is no passenger list of the "Arabella" and no proof they came on that ship. William's name first appears as stated in "Records of the Colony of Mass.Bay, by N.B.Shurtleff" page 82, Nov.30,1630. "It is ordered that whosoever employeth William Knapp or his sonne in any work shall pay the one-half of their wages to Sir Richard Saltonstall, and whoever buyeth boards of them shall pay one-half of the price to Sir Richard, till the money hee hath disbursed for them be satisfied." This was at a Court of Assistants held at Boston. (It is presumed this was for transportation to America) On page 85, Mch.22,1631:"It appears by Sir Richard Saltonstall's Note of Disbursments that William Knapp owes him the sum of 19 pounds and 5 shillings as was evidenced to the Court by Richard Browne and Ephraim Childs, being men indifferently chosen between them to judge thereof." On page 133, Nov.7,1634: "William Knapp is bound in 10 pounds to appear att the next Court & to abide the sensure of the Court for swearing." Page 143, Apr.7,1635: "It is referred to John Haynes,Esq. & Mr.Rob'te Teakes, to audit the accounts betwixte Edward Howe & Willm Knopp, to swear witnesses & examine them what they can say in the case & to make return thereof unto the next Court." Page 199,June 6,1637: "Willm Knop was enjoined upon paine of 100 pounds & imprisonment, to bring in surities within eight days for his appearance at the next quarter Court ~~to answer~~

to answer what shall be objected about his speeches of Mr,Vaine,our late Governor." Page 318,June 1,1641:"Willm Knop, ////////////////// for selling beer two years unlicensed, was fined 5 pounds." Page ?, Nov.13,1644:"Willm Knop, his fine of 5 pounds is abated to 20 shillings." His will mentions children as given above. Witnessed by Richd Beers, Richard Blouse and Nathaniel Saulisburry. Mid. Deeds,Vol.2, page 201/03 says he died intestate and that his estate was divided by order of the Court. Perhaps his will was set aside because made before his last marriage, Oct.15,1658. His estate was administered by Ephraim Childs, Richard Beers and Priscilla Knap, his widow. The next Apr. she was released as administrator. His will dated 1655, proved Oct.15,1658 made no mention of his wife, but in settling his estate his widow received one-third beside a debt due her for a sum of money loaned him before marriage when she was still widow Akers. (It is said he owed widow Akers £300 or pounds and that he planned the marriage as a way to settle the account.) Dec.16,1658 the Constable of Watertown was ordered by the Court to deliver to widow Knap her chest and other things which John Knap had detained from her by attachment. Dec.16,1662, Ephraim Childs and Sergt.Beers were discharged from administration of William Knapp's estate and John Coolidge(or Coolridge) and Henry Bright were appointed in their places. Money!'Her tongue would be for many hours together drawn like a semicircle up to the roof of her mouth,so that no fingers applied to it could remove it.Six men were scarce able to hold her in some of her fits,but she would skip about the house yelling ~~and~~

and howling and looking hideously.On Dec.17,her tongue being drawn out of her mouth to an extra length,a Daemon began manifestly to speak to her;for many words were distinctly uttered,wherein are the labial letters,without any motion of the lips at all;;words also were uttered from her throat,sometimes when her mouth was wide open,sometimes when her mouth was wholly shut,but no organs of speech were used therein.The chief things that the Daemons were horrid railings against the godly minister of the town;but sometimes likewise,she belched out nefandus blasphemies against the God of heaven.And one thing about this young woman was yet more particularly remarkable: she cried out in her fits that a certain woman in the neighberhood appeared unto her,and was the only cause of her affliction.This woman prayed with her and for her and time brought her to her senses".

case? Who was the Isaac,Jr. who d.in 1726/1? If not the son b.in 1699?

Sarah & Capt.Joseph Brown had Anthony Knapp Brown,b.6-10-1817 and Charles Perkins Brown,b.8-19-1819.d.young.

E-56. Capt.Anthony Knapp was 1st Lieut.on the privateer"Dalton"captured June,1777,(or 12-24-1775),taken to England,confined in Mill Prison.While there was treated kindly by an English clergyman,probably the Chaplain, for whom he named his first born son, Robert Heathe, a name that has been continued for generations in this line. He escaped from prison after 16 months. Extract from the Journal of Samuel Cutler:"Aug.15,1777.Fair weather. The 18th of July we began to make a passage through the wall of Mill Prison, England,and 16 feet underground to an adjacent field.Last night appeared dark and favorable to our design.At 11,P.M.,opened the end in the field and began to go through. The passage being small,several large persons going through worried the dirt down,so that we could get out but slowly,and only 32 persons got out undiscovered before daylight. 17 of the number belonged to the "Dalton"company"-The 1st and 2nd Lieut.,Master and Mate of the "Dalton" were of this number.(Anthony Knapp was 1st Lieut.)

He was an eccentric character and a remarkable rhymester.(See "Specimens of Sanbornton Poetry") After 1815 he lived as a hermit in a small house he built for himself near the bay shore,between two hillocks named by himself:Mt.Hemlock and Mt.[illegible] Ivory.He d.unmarried 3-4-1823?and desired that his shoes be buried with him.Horse Point, on the opposite shore of the bay,was the scene of his rescuing a man and his horse from drowning, one spring.

E-63. Much of this narrative is probably copied from"History of Sanbornton".The confusion of the different Isaacs is shown here.The above is almost identical with E-34.which see. Ancestry of the two Isaacs are different, perhaps E-34 is most probable. Isaac was a sea Captain and removed from Newburyport between 1803 and 1812 to take possession of 25 school lands which his son,Jacob Newman Knapp had previously purchased and began to improve,having built a small house on the farm now owned by Moses Leighton, near the bay- Lot 20,2nd Division. He continued to follow the sea.Inscribed on his gravestone we find:Intelligent,uncompromising,Humane,upright. During the voyage of life,Truth was his compass and the Bible his chart.

G-89. Frederick Newman Knapp's family removed,when he was an infant,to Walpole,N.H.,the home of his maternal ancestors. He was prepared for college at Phillips(Andover)Academy and was graduated with honors at Harvard College in 1843,and at Harvard Divinity School in 1847. He was settled as a Unitarian minister in Brookline,Mass.from 1847 to 1855 and at Plymouth,Mass. from 1869 to 1874. During the Civil War he was actively engaged in the work of the Sanitary Commission,being at the head of its special relief work which"he organized and controlled with masterly zeal,humanity and success",and in recognition of his services in this office he was made Honorary Member of the Grand Army of the Republic. Always interested in educational work,and perhaps inheriting from his father and other ancestors,

(among whom was Mark Newman,a Preceptor of the Phillips Andover Academy) the characteristics of a successful teacher,he established at Sutton,Mass. in 1867,a Home School for Boys,which he removed in 1869 to Plymouth,resigning his pastorate there in 1874,in order to devote himself wholly to this work,in which he was engaged until his death,which occurred suddenly. His name and services are shown on a large bronze plate in the church at Plymouth. The rare beauty of his moral and spiritual nature,added to his intellectual gifts and social graces,greatly endeared him to a large circle of friends and kindred, and a fellow townsman said of him "there was no public occasion to which he was not ready to contribute;nothing for the good of the community or his fellows from which he withheld his best efforts".(See pamphlet,"In Memoriam Frederick Newman Knapp"Boston,1889.)

Anthony ran away from home and joined the Privateer Brig "Decatur" as a seaman. He was with this brig many years, capturing many prizes. He was mate of the brig lying at Martinique. The Captain of the brig died on board and Anthony brought the vessel home to Boston, receiving a handsome present from the owners as it was a very severe winter. He was Captain of the Brig, "Two Brothers" of Newburyport. He was taken by pirates on the south side of San Domingo 12-21-1822. ////////////////// He was bound from San Domingo to Jacquermel 12-20-1822. The pirates sank their own boat and used the "Two Brothers" as a pirate brig. Capt. Anthony had $3000. to buy cargo. He placed it in some boots and handed them to his brother Samuel who was second mate, saying that he might need some boots. The pirates did not suspect he had anything in them.

Dear Sir:-

Your letter of September 30th to the New England Historic Genealogical Society has been given to me to answer, and I herewith report as follows:

There is no signature, as far as I can find in Massachusetts records, of Nicholas Knapp. The only transfers of land registered in his name are where he sold his Watertown grants in 1646 - two deeds, copies of which I enclose - and these were signed with "A Hand and Seale". Land deeds, of course, were only recorded, and the original papers returned to the owners, so nothing more is to be had there. Both of these deeds are registered in Suffolk County, vol. 1, page 71.

I also looked Nicholas Knapp up at Cambridge, but nothing at all is registered in his name in Middlesex County.

William Knapp of Watertown, sold land in 1635, copy of which deed is in vol. 2, page 227, but both his and his wife Prisilla's signatures were by a mark: W K and O. Again, of course, this is only a copy, as the original deed must have been returned to its owner.

In the very oldest files of the Middlesex County Clerk's Office, however, there is an original document from the settlement of William Knapp's estate - the only one now in existence, probably (at least publisly recorded) of his actual signature - and this, too, is signed by a mark. I send you herewith a copy of the full document with a tracing of the signature: and this, if you wish, I can probably have photostated for you.

There is a photostat machine in connection with another department over at Cambridge, and tho they do not usually permit old original records to go very far from home, I think the custodian of these would be kind enough to let us have a photostat copy if you care for it.

If you do care for it, and will let me know, I will be glad to see if I can have it done for you at once.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) Florence Mae Lea.

The Knapp Families of Franklin County, N.Y.

by David G.Knapp,
Sept.23,1954.

By study of Federal Census schedules and local history sources it turns out that John Knapp(G-1312) of Bangor,N.Y.was the son of Amos Knapp (F-496)as the Nicholas Knapp Genealogy has it.Amos Knapp's Bible shows all his children and none of them was named John.

Instead,John(G-1312)was a son of Jonah Knapp who lived at Orange,Franklin Co.Mass.,and Dummerston,Windham Co.,Vt.

In"Franklin Co.,N.Y."byF.J.Soars,1918,page 152,John and Horace Knapp are listed among the early settlers. It is stated that"the former was the father of Wells,of Malone":This last must be an error-it probably should have said "father of Nathan,of Malone".There is a sketch of Nathan Knapp(H-2145),b. Bangor,N.Y.1824,saying he clerked for a time for his uncle,Wells Knapp(G-370) of Malone.If Wells was Nathan's uncle,he was a brother of John & son of Jonah.

Census records of Franklin Co,N.Y.for 1830,1850,1860 & 1870have been examined at the Federal Archives Building.Heads of families named Knapp included Hiram,Joshua,John(G-1312)Orren,Horace,and Wells(G-370),Nathan(H-2145)and Russell W.John & Orrin were natives of Mass.,Horace & Wells,ofVt.,& Nathan & Russell W.of N.Y.Combining different census records gives a pretty good picture of their households,though not necessarily of their actual relationship

b.Note age of this Laura reported age 9 in 1860.She was presumably the niece Laura mentioned in John's will.She was certainly not my Aunt Laura Melissa Knapp-Weaver H-2138)who was b.1865.
This further nails the error in identifying John as the brother of Elijah W.

Note. In 1850 census Wells, Azuba and Nathan were enumerated at the hotel of Philip B.Miller in Malone.

Most of the above dovetails with data in Hemenway's Vermont Historical Gazetteer article "Knapp Family of Dummerston" vol.5,page 148/49. Here we find considerable data on the progeny of one Ichabod Knapp who married Catherine Miller Dec.10,1780. Then the following:"Jonah Knapp,a brother of Ichabod,came from Orange,Mass. to Dummerston about 1803. The children of Jonah and Ann, his wife,were:John,born in Orange,Mass.,Aug.1,1793;m.Jan.31,1822,Hannah Adams. Lucretia,b.July 31,1795,m.Justin Sargent. Orrin,b.Mch.18,1798. The foregoing account does not mention Hiram, Joshua or Wells. I have no particular reason to suppose that Hiram or Joshua was related to John .

There is a discrepancy in the name of John's wife.Hemenway has her as Hannah, whereas the N.Y.census records give it variously as Alma, Elma and Emily.

The data on progeny of Wells Knapp(G-370) as given in the Nicholas Knapp Genealogy can be augmented by referring to A.W.Foote's "Foote Family", 2 vol.,1907-1932, especially Vol.2.page 807/08.

If Wells Knapp,(G-370) was a brother of John, as seems likely, then he was not the son of Hezor Knapp(F-145)

Dear Dr. Knapp.— In regard to your query about the Knapp house in Walpole, N.H, yes, it was occupied by Jacob Norman Knapp.
He bought it from Josh Bellows 2nd; it was built in 1810, a square brick dwelling and Jacob and his wife Louisa Bellows moved into it about 5 years after their marriage (which was in 1819). So that he owned it from 1824.

It was their home for the rest of their lives and carried on by their descendants until sold about 2 yrs ago to Mr. Raymond Bunker, whose widow now occupies it.

As to the wall paper (pictured on the post card that you have) I have understood from my cousins that it was put on when the house was built. The paper is in wonderful preservation and beautiful coloring to this day; in the family it has always been called the "Litey of Paris" paper. It is on the north west parlor. The hall paper is also the original one also.

In the Bellows Genealogy published in 1898 by Thomas Bellows Peck, it gives these facts about the Knapps, which you may care to know.

Jacob Herman Knapp, second son of Isaac + Susanna (Herman) Knapp was born in Newburyport, Mass Nov. 7 1773 and died in Walpole N.H. July 27, 1868 in his 95th year.

His father ~~was~~ Was born in Roxbury Mass. Dec. 24, 1747, married to Susanna Herman Apr. 24, 1770. He was a Sea Captain from Newburyport and later removed to Sanborton, N.H.

He was the 5th generation from William Knapp, the Emigrant ancestor who was born in England in 1578 + settled in Watertown, Mass. in 1630. The line of descent was through John[2] Isaac[3] of Charlestown, Cambridge and Salem and Newbury. (There is a good deal more about him which I won't take time to copy.)

Jacob had 2 sons, Francis Bellows Knapp and Frederick Herman Knapp. The latter had a son Frederick Bradford Knapp and 3 daughters. They resided in Plymouth, and Duxbury Mass. but came up in the Spring + Fall to stay at the old house as long as it remained in the family.

I trust I have not given you unimportant information.

I hope to see Mrs Cameron this summer

Sincerely

Walpole, N.H. Langdon Bellows

Knapp Skippers Bumble Bee to Yacht Triumph

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., June 17.—The first steady southwesterly sailing breeze of the season enticed the year's record fleet of 110 racing yachts to mid-Sound this afternoon for the regular Y. R. A. championship regatta under the auspices of Huguenot Yacht Club. This was twenty-nine more than the previous top total of eighty-one which started yesterday at Larchmont.

Winners, after real brisk skirmishes in most instances, included William H. Stanley's blue-hulled International, Bumble Bee, skippered by Arthur Knapp; Dave Crampton's Herreshoff-S. sloop Kestrel; Patricia Bancker with Sprite in her initial Atlantic Class contest of the spring, and Ted Ronan's Two-Ten, Padashah.

Broker Will Devote Summer to Pursuit of America's Cup

By JOHN RENDEL

The New York Stock Exchange trading floor will be a man short in June, July, August and possibly September. Arthur Knapp Jr. of Larchmont will leave the canyons of commerce for the sea during those months. Last week he was chosen skipper of Weatherly, one of four Twelve-Meter yachts that will try to become our defender of the America's Cup.

Knapp was in a good position to jump at the chance. A bachelor doesn't have to answer for being away from home for four months while he lives and works on a boat without pay.

Henry D. Mercer, Cornelius Walsh and Arnold D. Frese, who are parting with large sums to build and maintain the cup candidate, did not regard Knapp's freedom as a primary qualification. He got the assignment because he is among the world's foremost racing sailormen.

So Carlisle & Jacquelin, odd-lot dealers of 120 Broadway, must find a substitute associate broker to work the floor while Knapp tries to guide Weatherly into the world's biggest sailing competition. If he makes it, the opponent will be England's Sceptre off Newport, R. I., starting Sept. 20.

Will Pick Crew

Knapp has the authority to pick his crew and do whatever else he thinks necessary to get everything possible out of the new yacht. He has been thinking of little else since being chosen.

"There are lots of good men," he said. "The trouble is that not so many can take the whole summer off, so nothing is set-Besides, I am going to consult with the owners and with Phil Rhodes, the designer, before I make any final choices. There will be ten men besides myself. There may be up to four professionals, depending on how things turn out. There are not as many good pros as there used to be, but I have some ideas."

None of the three backers, all executives of the State Marine Lines fleet of cargo vessels, has racing experience, so they will not be in the afterguard. The situation will parallel that of Sir Thomas Lipton, who backed five challenges with his Shamrocks and never raced on them.

Knapp was sought out at the Larchmont Yacht Club. Everybody knows him there and everybody had a word of congratulation. One was Drake Sparkman, head of Sparkman & Stephens, Inc., designers of a rival cup candidate for the Henry Sears syndicate.

"It was great to hear the news," said Drake with a big grin, "but I hope you don't fare too well."

Knapp has won hundreds of sailing honors since his first major one, the national junior championship in 1922. He will sail anything, any time, from a dinghy upward. He sails the year round.

Now 51, he has been sailing since the age of 9. He started on Little Neck Bay. When he was 11, his father bought him a Star class boat for $250. He became the world Star Class champion in 1930.

"Imagine giving an 11-year-old boy a Star these days," he said. "It shows how times have changed in yachting. A Star [22½ feet over-all] was considered a tiny boat in those days."

Knapp has sailed with and against Briggs Cunningham, skipper of the Sears syndicate boat, in Six and Eight-Meter yachts; against C. Raymond Hunt, designer and possible helmsman for the Chandler Hovey candidate Easterner, when both were juniors, and with Don Matthews, helmsman for his father John's Vim, also a cup candidate, last summer and fall.

Sailed Aboard Vim

So he knows his opponents well. He did not think he had enough to do aboard Vim last year, but feels now that it was a fine refresher course in the ways of Twelve-Meter yachts, two of which he had sailed occasionally in the late Nineteen Thirties. In 1937 he was headsail man for Harold S. Vanderbilt's J boat Ranger when the last cup match was held.

Knapp is a firm believer in winter dinghy sailing. "Anyone who sails one of them must really love sailing," he says. On Sunday he proved his skill by winning his ninth dinghy championships at Larchmont in the last eleven years.

Clint Bell, the club's winter racing chairman, goes a step further. "If you take the ten top men in dinghies at this club and put them into a Twelve-Meter," says he, "they will really make her go."

When Knapp is not sailing he is talking or writing about it. His book, "Race Your Boat Right," is a feed-box special for new skippers. He often lectures on sailing at yacht clubs. Three years ago he bought a dinghy, painted her orange and black, named her Tiger and made her available on week-ends to Princeton undergraduates.

However, Tiger is a kitten without Knapp. The best student performance at any Larchmont regatta has been a fifth place.

Close In on English Soccer Title—Preston Triumphs Over Blackpool, 2-1

LONDON, April 7 (Reuters)—English soccer teams today ended a heavy schedule of week-end games which brought no shift in the race for league honors.

The Wolverhampton Wanderers, leading the first division, notched another victory in London, shutting out Arsenal, 2—0.

With only five league games left, the Wolves are in front with 59 points from thirty-seven games — twenty-six victories, seven ties and four losses. They need only two more victories to clinch the league championship.

Preston North End, in second place with 54 points, downed Blackpool by 2—1 in its thirty-eighth game.

The struggle at the bottom of the first division also remained unchanged, with all four cellar teams losing today. The two teams at the end of the list when the schedule is completed will be demoted to the second division next season.

Manchester United won its first regular league game since the Munich air crash on Feb. 6 all but wiped out the first-string team. United beat Sunderland, 2—1.

Ice Delays Hot Time Promised Anglers

By JOHN W. RANDOLPH

KNOW all men by these presents from John Brennan that New Hampshire's lust for battle has been aroused. It will defend, as Bowie defended the Alamo, its title as the greatest little fresh-water fishing state between Vermont and Maine.

Brennan talks officially and ably for the New Hampshire State Planning and Development Commission, but, in addition and unofficially, he has publicized the state's hunting and fishing more than any other human. He has just completed a characteristic lightning survey and it runs like this:

"We (but not I) caught a number of nice landlocked salmon last Tuesday and the situation improves every day, although there is little open water yet. I tried Lake Winnisquam. Two had been taken out of the pool I fished in the Winnepesaukee River around daybreak.

"I estimate that as many as sixty or seventy boats were out on the three hunks of water that were available, in spite of a lovely mixture of snow and rain wafted on a brisk northeast wind. I had confirmed nine salmon and a lake trout by 10 A. M.

"Up at Sunapee, fishing in three-foot-square openings off the ends of wharves in Sunapee harbor and in a small opening off the mouth of the brook near Russell's Inn, they took twenty rainbows on Tuesday. Sunapee and Merrymeeting Lakes are the only waters where there are many rainbows that are legally fishable from April 1 to general opening day on April 23.

"There's quite a little talk that the ice may go out very suddenly, much earlier than expected, but John Goodhue of Glendale (on Winnepesaukee) is sticking to his earlier prediction—that it will be April 15 or a little later before the lake clears.

"I do think, though, that Winnisquam will be clear or have enough open water for trolling sooner than that. There's about two miles open in two separate stretches now. I don't plan to go up until a little later, when the smelt start to run and early-morning fishing (4:30 to 8 A. M.) gets good at the mouths of smelt brooks.

"A trip to the inlet of First Connecticut Lake ought to be a good bet this year as there is no question of lack of run-off. We expect the week-end of May 3, 4 or May 10, 11 will hit ice-out conditions there.

"The Baker River hasn't had any serious freshets or ice jams, but there is still danger of freshets because snow is deep in the mountains. Weather has been ideal for moderate run-offs without flooding.

"I've been sweating out the Blackwater, because there are some very good trout upstream from the flood-control dam and there's no telling what would happen to them if they had to shut the gates and make a big lake out of the valley.

"Please keep in mind that spring is nearly a month later this year. Last year was about two weeks ahead of normal and the year is two weeks behind. The weather this month will tell the story. Some of the small ponds are becoming clear already and if most of the trout ponds around here open by April 20 there'll be reasonable fly fishing in them on opening day even though

PINEY FINGO FIRST IN WESTBURY PACE

Laura Scott Is Half-Length Behind in Feature Event—Canny Scot Wins Again

By LOUIS EFFRAT

Special to The New York Times.

WESTBURY, L. I., April 7—Despite two days of heavy rain the half-mile track at Roosevelt Raceway was fit for harness racing tonight. Credit for making possible the business-as-usual routine must go to Paul (Tex) Tankersley, the track superintendent, and his crew.

Between 6 o'clock and the customary 8:30 opening post time, Tankersley and his aides employed harrows, graders and sand-sprinklers, all of which put the half-mile course in reasonably good shape. Workmen used shovels to remove the accumulated mud so that nothing prevented the first half of the daily double from going to post at the listed time.

Of course, the drainage system worked without a flaw, so that the special Flanders soil was in good enough condition to make possible a 2:06 3/5 clocking in the featured fifth race. That one, the Manhasset, a mile test for Class A pacers, was won by Piney Fingo, owned by the Landers Stable of Kittery, Me., and trained and driven by Billy Haughton.

19-1 Shot Is Second

The crowd of 16,000, having made the 8-year-old brown gelding the third choice applauded Piney Fingo's half-length victory over Laura Scott, the 19-to-1 outsider, who was three-quarters of a length ahead of Express Byrd.

The winner, who rallied in the stretch, paid $10.40 for $2, en route to the second fastest mile of the meeting. Frank Darish had Laura Scott in a contending position most of the way, but the mare was unable to menace Piney Fingo, despite a fast finish.

The New York Stock Exchange trading floor will be a man short in June, July, August and possibly September. Arthur Knapp Jr. of Larchmont will leave the canyons of commerce for the sea during those months. Last week he was chosen skipper of Weatherly, one of four Twelve-Meter yachts that will try to become our defender of the America's Cup.

Knapp was in a good position to jump at the chance. A bachelor doesn't have to answer for being away from home for four months while he lives and works on a boat without pay.

Henry D. Mercer, Cornelius Walsh and Arnold D. Frese, who are parting with large sums to build and maintain the cup candidate, did not regard Knapp's freedom as a primary qualification. He got the assignment because he is among the world's foremost racing sailormen.

So Carlisle & Jacquelin, odd-lot dealers of 120 Broadway, must find a substitute associate broker to work the floor while Knapp tries to guide Weatherly into the world's biggest sailing competition. If he makes it, the opponent will be England's Sceptre off Newport, R. I., starting Sept. 20.

Will Pick Crew

Knapp has the authority to pick his crew and do whatever else he thinks necessary to get everything possible out of the new yacht. He has been thinking of little else since being chosen.

"There are lots of good men," he said. "The trouble is that not so many can take the whole summer off, so nothing is set. Besides, I am going to consult with the owners and with Phil Rhodes, the designer, before I make any final choices. There will be ten men besides myself. There may be up to four professionals, depending on how things turn out. There are not as many good pros as there used to be, but I have some ideas."

None of the three backers, all executives of the State Marine Lines fleet of cargo vessels, has racing experience, so they will not be in the afterguard. The situation will parallel that of Sir Thomas Lipton, who backed five challenges with his Shamrocks and never raced on them.

Knapp was sought out at the Larchmont Yacht Club. Everybody knows him there and everybody had a word of congratulation. One was Drake Sparkman, head of Sparkman & Stephens, Inc., designers of a rival cup candidate for the Henry Sears syndicate.

"It was great to hear the news," said Drake with a big grin, "but I hope you don't fare too well."

Knapp has won hundreds of sailing honors since his first major one, the national junior championship in 1922. He will sail anything, any time, from a dinghy upward. He sails the year round.

Now 51, he has been sailing since the age of 9. He started on Little Neck Bay. When he was 11, his father bought him a Star class boat for $250. He became the world Star Class champion in 1930.

"Imagine giving an 11-year-old boy a Star these days," he said. "It shows how times have changed in yachting. A Star [22½ feet over-all] was considered a tiny boat in those days."

Knapp has sailed with and against Briggs Cunningham, skipper of the Sears syndicate boat, in Six and Eight-Meter yachts; against C. Raymond Hunt, designer and possible helmsman for the Chandler Hovey candidate Easterner, when both were juniors, and with Don Matthews, helmsman for his father John's Vim, also a cup candidate, last summer and fall.

Sailed Aboard Vim

So he knows his opponents well. He did not think he had enough to do aboard Vim last year, but feels now that it was a fine refresher course in the ways of Twelve-Meter yachts, two of which he had sailed occasionally in the late Nineteen Thirties. In 1937 he was headsail man for Harold S. Vanderbilt's J boat Ranger when the last cup match was held.

Knapp is a firm believer in winter dinghy sailing. "Anyone who sails one of them must really love sailing," he says. On Sunday he proved his skill by winning his ninth dinghy championships at Larchmont in the last eleven years.

Clint Bell, the club's winter racing chairman, goes a step further. "If you take the ten top men in dinghies at this club and put them into a Twelve-Meter," says he, "they will really make her go."

When Knapp is not sailing he is talking or writing about it. His book, "Race Your Boat Right," is a feed-oox special for new skippers. He often lectures on sailing at yacht clubs. Three years ago he bought a dinghy, painted her orange and black, named her Tiger and made her available on week-ends to Princeton undergraduates.

However, Tiger is a kitten without Knapp. The best student performance at any Larchmont regatta has been a fifth place.
